CORAM: A.P. DESHPANDE, J.
17.7.2007

PC:

The present appellants are the original plaintiffs. The plaintiffs filed a suit for declaration of title and prayed for possession of the suit property after removing the alleged encroachment made by the defendants. The trial Court so also the First Appellate Court on appreciation of evidence on record have reached a finding that the plaintiffs have failed to establish title to the suit land. It is further found that the plaintiffs have also failed to prove that the defendant has encroached on the suit land. So finding the suit came to be dismissed and the First Appellate Court concurring with the view taken by the trial Court has dismissed regular civil appeal. Aggrieved thereby the present second appeal has been filed. Perused the judgment of the First Appellate Court. Same does not call for interference. No substantial question of law emerges for adjudication. Hence second appeal stands summarily dismissed.
